The School Needs Them

It is to be fervently hoped that no enormous idea of economy will father any opposition to the movement to give Murray city schools their badly needed increase in accommodations. Although built less than ten years ago and one of the best school buildings in the state, the present quarters are badly overcrowded and new facilities are necessary if our children are to get the full benefit of the public school's opportunities.

If we do not so live that we can enable our children to carry on a little farther, we have lived in vain. For what use is money but to enable ourselves and our own to get the most out of life? Unfortunately, a large number of people have never yet learned that money is not the end, but simply the means to the end.

A bond issue for the purpose should not receive one dissenting vote and, if called, the Ledger & Times hopes that those opposed to it will stay away from the polls.

Our Milk Plant

Even the most pessimistic could find little to complain about in the operation of the Murray Milk Plant. Naturally it is expected that nothing human can completely satisfy everyone but on the whole the operation of the plant and its value to the county is eminently pleasing to the vast majority of dairymen, farmers and business men.

Many a man who thinks his health is getting worse merely has an attack of spring fever.

Colonel Harry Summers just last week celebrated another anniversary in marking the 47th year of his editorship of the Elizabethtown News. Last June the Kentucky Press Association joined him in Elizabethtown on his 50th anniversary as a Kentucky editor.

Being a governor is no longer an honor it's a risk.

Our guess is that the voters of Calloway county will not take very kindly to the $35,000 bond issue for a new jail. None of the voters are figuring on lodging there.

The Federal Reserve Board warns the big boys about credit. Our own bankers keep us well informed on the situation.

Judge Logan has declared the state can save $300,000 annually by abolishing useless jobs. That's old news.

There are two newspaper laws as inflexible as those of the Mosaic and Persian. One is to collect in advance for political printing and the other is not to print communications from unknown correspondents.—Boston Tribune.

How to Get Right

Hoover thinks the Republican party in the South ought to reform. If it did, all its members would vote the Democratic ticket.—Elizabethtown News.

We Have Some

There are actually some men in Trigg county who act like they do not want any roads. However, we notice they like to drive over roads already built by somebody else.—Caldwell Record.

A Bowling Green paper publishes the following problem, which so far has never been solved: "A boy goes out on the campus wearing an overcoat and gets pneumonia. A girl goes out with a peek-a-boo waist and gets prickly heat."

Temple Hill

Miss Margaret McKenna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McKenna, and Mr. Euel Jones son of Mrs. Ruth Jones were united in marriage last Tuesday evening at the home of the bride. They left Sunday night for Paducah where they will make their home. We all wish Mr. and Mrs. Jones a happy and prosperous life.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobert Evans are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby girl, born last Tuesday.

The Rev. and Mrs. H. P. Pruitt and little son, Russell, were the Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Herndon.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Burken and family spent Sunday with Mrs. Burken's parents, Mrs. M. E. Griffin.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Burken left last week for Detroit. Mrs. Burken and children will join him in a few days.

Edmund Hopkins and Mr. James Hopkins were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Morris.

Visitors Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. John Stithin were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Griffin and baby Dorothy Lou, and Miss Morris Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. Norvin Mahan and family, and the Rev. and Mrs. H. P. Pruitt and son.

The stock visited Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Herndon and left them to rest.

Jail for Sinclair,

Vice Court Decries

Washington, April 8.—An answer was given by the Supreme Court of the United States today to the familiar statement that "you can't put a hundred million dollars in jail."

Harry F. Sinclair, multimillion-dollar oil operator of Teapot Dome fame, must spend ninety days in a "common jail," according to the Supreme Court's mandate, because he refused to answer certain questions put to him by the United States Senate. And the jailer of the "common jail," who will be Sinclair's custodian, announced that all prisoners look the same to him and must share the common lot.

"You can't put a hundred million dollars in jail," Mr. Sinclair said this afternoon. "All must follow the same routine. We do not allow our prisoners to send out for their meals only for clothing and money."

After five years, Sinclair is thus to fare as common criminals do, not because of his major part in the Teapot Dome fraud or because he refused to answer certain questions put to him by the United States Senate. Of all the principals in the case which shook the country in 1924, Sinclair is the only one who usually is confronted by a prison term.

AN ORDINANCE TO REGULATE THE CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT, ALTERATION, REPAIRS OR STRUCTURES ERECTED, OR TO BE ERECTED IN THE CITY OF MURRAY, KY.

Be it ordained by the City Council of the city of Murray, Ky.:
(a) PERMIT. No building, wall, structure or part thereof shall hereafter be built, repaired, removed altered or enlarged except by permit from the City Council, and in conformity to ordinances. Anything hereafter erected without permit and not in conformity to ordinances shall be removed.

(b) Each building permit granted by the City Council shall recite the first section of this ordinance.
(c) "STANDARD" DEFINED. The term "standard" in this ordinance shall be defined to mean the standard adopted by the National Board of Fire Underwriters.
(d) WALLS AND FOUNDATIONS. Foundations and foundations of buildings or structures within the fire limits prescribed by ordinances shall hereafter be built of brick, stone or solid Portland cement concrete except as hereinafter provided.

No independent brick wall for building not exceeding one story in height shall be less than twelve (12) inches in thickness; if building exceeds one story in height, top story wall to be not less than twelve (12) inches in thickness, increasing four (4) inches for each two stories below. No party brick wall for building not exceeding one story in height shall be less than sixteen (16) inches in thickness. If building exceeds one story in height, top story of party wall to be not less than sixteen (16) inches in thickness, increasing four (4) inches for each two stories below.

Stone walls shall in all cases be four (4) inches thicker than the standards prescribed for brick walls.

There shall be not less than four (4) inches of solid brick work between flues in a party wall.

(f) INTERIOR OR PARTY WALLS. All interior or party walls hereafter erected within the fire limits shall be built with parapet above the roof of any structure thereon, to a height of not less than eighteen (18) inches on buildings three stories or less, and to a height of not less than thirty-six (36) inches on buildings over three stories high; such parapet in all cases to be not less than twelve (12) inches in thickness.

All such parapets shall be coped with the stone or cement.
(g) FIRE DOORS. All communicating openings in division walls between buildings shall be protected by standard double automatic fire doors, one to be placed on each side of the wall.

(h) ALL interior division walls or other places of public assembly shall hereafter be built of brick, stone, hollow tile or metal lath and plaster on metal studding, and all doors shall open outward.

(i) CORNICES. On all buildings and other than residences, churches and dormitories hereafter erected within the fire limits the exterior cornices shall be of some fireproof material and not continuous with cornice of any adjoining building.

(j) ALL exterior wall openings, except those fronting on street, shall be protected by standard wired glass in metal frames; or by standard fire doors or shutters. The occupant or occupants having use or control of same shall see that they are closed at the close of the business of each day.

(k) SKYLIGHTS. Skylights shall hereafter be constructed of one-fourth-inch wired glass set in standard metal frames; or one-fourth-inch plain glass in metal frames, if protected by wire netting of No. 12 galvanized wire, one-inch mesh, set not less than six (6) inches above glass on iron supports. The term sky-light shall be taken to mean any opening placed over openings for the purpose of transmitting light.

(l) ELEVATOR GUARDS. In any buildings in which exists any hoistway, elevator shaftway, not enclosed in solid constructed of brick or other fireproof material and provided with standard fire doors, the openings thereof through and upon each floor of said building shall be protected by a substantial guard or gate, and standard automatic fire doors, properly counterweighted, covered with tin on the underside and edges, and so constructed as to form a substantial floor surface, when closed. The guards or gates shall be kept closed at all times except when in actual use.

(m) CHIMNEYS. All chimneys, except as herein provided, shall hereafter be built of brick from the ground. Each flue shall be enclosed in brick by not less than eight (8) inches of solid brickwork, except that the width (or brickwork) between the lined flues on the inside of the chimney may be four (4) inches in thickness. All chimneys shall extend at least three (3) feet above a flat roof. No chimney shall be corbelled out more than eight (8) inches from the wall, and the corbeling shall consist of at least five (5) courses of brick.

(n) ALL wood beams or joists shall be trimmed away from all flues and chimneys, whether the same be for smoke, air or any other flue or chimney. No trimmer beam shall be less than four (4) inches from the outside of a chimney breast, and the trimmer beam carrying the load of a floor, and supporting the trimmer arch in front of a fireplace shall not be less than twenty (20) inches from the chimney breast.

(o) TEMPORARY FRAME BUILDINGS. Temporary one-story frame buildings may be erected for the use of builders within the limits of lots whereon buildings are in process of construction, or on adjoining vacant lots, upon permits issued by the City Council. No such building shall be allowed to remain for more than thirty days, nor to exceed 1,000 square feet area.

(p) FRAME SHEDS. Frame sheds, not over ten feet high, open on at least one side, with sides and roof covered with non-combustible material, may be built, but a fence shall not be used as a side or a back thereof. Such sheds shall not cover an area exceeding 500 square feet and shall be located not less than thirty (30) feet from any other building.

(q) FRAME HOUSES. Frame houses not exceeding 100 square feet area and ten (10) feet in height and with non-combustible roof, located within the said fire limits.

(r) ROOFS. No shingle or unapproved composition roof, wooden awning, wooden cornice, wooden cornice covered with metal, or other addition or attachment of combustible material, except rear platform on ground floor, without roofs or sides, shall be placed upon any building within said fire limits.

(s) PLUE HOLES. All flue-holes when not in use shall be closed with tight-fitting metal covers.
(t) PENALTIES. The owner or owners of any building, structure, or part thereof, or of any of the several features governed by this ordinance, and any architect, contractor or builder who assists in the commission of any act wherein a violation of this ordinance exists shall for each and every such violation and non-compliance be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than five dollars ($5.00) nor more than twenty-five ($25.00), and each ten days of maintenance of prohibited conditions shall constitute a separate offense.

The application of the above penalty shall not be held to prevent the enforced removal of prohibited conditions, as provided for under section (a) of this ordinance.

(u) All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict with the foregoing are hereby repealed. This ordinance designed to apply only to that territory within the fire limits, as defined by ordinance.

This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.
PASSED, ADOPTED, ENACTED and ordered published in The Ledger & Times, a newspaper published and circulating in Murray, Ky., this 5 day of April 1929.

Chevrolet Beats Production Mark

Detroit.—All monthly production records in the history of the Chevrolet Motor Company were broken in March, when the company produced 147,274 cars and trucks. A factory statistician explained that this figure was a "phenomenon" in excess of previous production schedules and it was necessary to more fully accommodate an increasing demand for the new car Chevrolet six.

This March record compares with 133,657 units in March of last year and with 121,274 in February of this year. The company's output for the first quarter of the year, which was 407,192 units, when output totaled 140,775 units.

The March performance enabled the company to extend its record for the first quarter of the year with a total of 364,700 units, compared with 342,457 for the first three months of 1928.

MISS WATERS IS HONORED SUNDAY

Methodist Missionary to China

Miss Alice Waters, a native of Calloway county, and a Methodist missionary to China since 1893, was honored in both morning and afternoon services at the Methodist church Sunday by the recently organized Wesley Brotherhood.

The men took charge of the services in the absence of the pastor, Rev. C. E. Nurnman who was away in revival service.

The Wednesday night together in the front central hall at home services and almost 100 per cent attendance was recorded.

The morning program was as follows:

Dr. W. R. Bourne, chairman of the World Brotherhood committee, presiding.

Scripture reading and prayer—J. D. Sexton.

Introductory statement—W. R. Bourne.

Her Contribution to Methodism—Ed Filbeck.

Her Task in a New China—Dr. J. W. Carr.

Her Benediction Upon Us As Friends, Relatives and Neighbors—Nat Ryan, Sr.

Benediction—Dr. Rainey T. Wells.

The evening service, which began at 7:30 was as follows:

J. D. Sexton, presiding.

Prayer—E. P. Phillips.

Scripture Reading—by Mrs. W. R. Bourne, president of the Women's Missionary Society.

Song—Special Choir.

Address—Miss Alice Waters.

Benediction—Dr. John W. Carr.

The following brief biography of Miss Waters was prepared for the program by Dr. John W. Carr, president of the Wesley Brotherhood.

Miss Waters is a native of Calloway county. She attended the city schools and graduated from Murray high school in 1884. She taught in the rural schools of this county and later in Fulton county. In 1890 she was graduated from the Memphis Conference Female Institute, Jackson, Tennessee, which is now known as Lambuth College. In 1892 she was graduated from the Bible Training School at Chicago, and at once entered the foreign mission fields in China. Her greatest single piece of work was the opening and carrying on of the Susan Wilson junior high school for girls in Sung Kiang. Thirteen years of the 37 she has spent as a missionary were devoted to this work. Some time this summer she will return to China to continue her life work.

CRAWFORD-GATLIN ABSORB REYNOLDS

Chain of Which Crawford-Gatlin Stores to Be Closed

Purchasing the fourteen ready-to-wear and dry goods stores operated by the Reynolds, Inc. in West Tennessee and West Kentucky, Crawford-Gatlin Company, Inc., will increase its total store units to 30 stores, all located within the same territory as the Reynolds stores.

The Reynolds stores are taken into the Crawford-Gatlin store system was concluded in Nashville last Thursday.

Following an agreement reached the first of the week by the executives of both corporations.

All the Reynolds, Inc. stores will be transferred into the Crawford-Gatlin Company, Inc., system of stores, and will take the identification and trade name of the latter company.

Reynolds, now the president of the Reynolds, Inc., will no longer be associated with the stores, it is said, and will retire to other activities.

The Reynolds stores, it is learned, will probably involve a half-million dollars in merchandise, and the acquisition of these stores by the Crawford-Gatlin interests will increase the assets of this company to above a million dollars.

The Murray store, with W. V. Hale manager, is known as No. 3 in the Crawford-Gatlin chain but will continue to be known to the public as Crawford-Hale.

Tommy Gibbons, retired heavy weight boxer, has given $50,000 to build a church at Osakis, Minn.

The Old Reliable Heath & Milligan Paints are different from all other paints.

Heath & Milligan Paint is subjected to the tremendous crushing pressure of 3,500 pounds and is put through seven slow, thorough processes of manufacture. Paint made in this way is of uniform consistency to the last drop in the bucket and will cover the greatest area of surface with the smallest labor expenses. Its wearing qualities are more than double that of paints made by ordinary factory methods. For economy's sake and permanent work be sure to ask for Heath & Milligan Paints and Finishes at Wear's Drugstore.

Rudy Presents The Hat Success of Spring

LINES play the most important part in the hat mode of the spring season. The EYEBROW LINE reveals the lower part of the forehead. After the NECKLINE is low and close-fitting in back. SIDE LINES sweep and are very interesting through the use of manipulations such as pleats and tucks. And the straw are as supple as felt in these newest models. Backs and Paris menna is tucked and then blocked into position. And HEADLINES are most important of all for hats are molded closely to it.
